The BE&K Building Group's Project Nearing Completion at Western North Carolina's Park Ridge Hospital Prominently Featured in Asheville Newspaper

The BE&K Building Group's expansion/renovation project at Park Ridge Hospital in Fletcher, North Carolina, was featured recently in The Asheville Citizen-Times, Western North Carolina's most widely read daily newspaper. The prominent article included several quotes from the BE&K Building Group's project superintendent, Jerry Young. The project — due for completion next month — is one of two current projects the BE&K Building Group's Nashville office has under way for Park Ridge Hospital's owner, Adventist Health System. We are scheduled to complete a major expansion and renovation at Central Texas Medical Center near Austin this fall. The BE&K Building Group is providing construction management at risk services for both projects.
